

A Voice Anointed for Worship

Born and raised in Dallas, Texas, Kirisma Evans discovered her passion for gospel music at the tender age of five. Her mother recognized and nurtured this gift, while influential figures such as Audrey Jones, V. Michael McKay, and Dr. Juanita Bynum played pivotal roles in her spiritual and musical development.

Throughout her ministry, Kirisma has remained steadfast in her calling, collaborating with gospel luminaries including Pastor Marvin L. Winans, Kurt Carr, Pastor Donnie McClurkin, and Jonathan Nelson. Her anointed voice has resonated internationally, with performances in countries like Kenya, Italy, and the Bahamas. She has also recorded with esteemed artists such as James Hall and currently lends her talents to Ricky Dillard & New G. Additionally, she has had the privilege of touring with John P. Kee.

A standout moment in her career was leading a 200-voice choir during the “Together We Sing” concert with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra. Her rendition of “There Is No Way” by Rev. Milton Brunson and the Thompson Community Singers left the audience profoundly moved and speechless.

Presently, Kirisma serves as the Praise & Worship Leader at New Faith Church in Houston, Texas, under the leadership of Dr. Andre J. Lewis, where she guides congregations into profound worship experiences. In recognition of her exceptional talent and dedication, she was honored with the Independent Female Artist of the Year award at The Sound Awards in 2025.

With a sound that seamlessly blends traditional and contemporary gospel, Kirisma Evans stands as a true gift to the body of Christ—an anointed psalmist whose voice carries the profound presence of God.
